----Short Stories of Animals.

White ants des royed the woodwork of a house in New South Wales, and it cost over $2,000 to repair it.

A Georgia farmer removed to Alabama and took his cow with him; but the animal turned up at her old home, ninety miles off, in a few days after-

A three legged kitten is a curiosity belonging to Dr. A. G. Emory, of Opelika, Ala. It is perfect in every other respect, and the shoulder-blade is perfeet and natural.

The parent of a mocking bird captured at Queen Creck, Ari., after failing in every effort to liberate him, brought relief in the shape of a poisonous berry, and the little prisoner died. Crows are the natural enemies of the singing bird. They pounce upon the nests of the lark and plover and rob robins of their young. They are said to be exterminating these birds in New A Colorado horse belonging to H. C.

Gill walked into a lake and after wading into the shallow water 100 yards from shore, lay down and drowned himself in water but two feet deep. A clear case of suicide. A bald eagle was caught at the Delaware Western Railroad Bridge at Wilmington, Del. At the time of capture it was engaged in combat with a large Newfoundland dog, which it was endeavoring to carry off.

A Reading (Pa.) eagle lives exclusivly on rats, but they must be in prime condition or he will not touch them. The rats are thrown into the cage alive.

The dog of a farmer at Kickapoo, Ill., dug into a gravel and sand-bank for a skunk, throwing the dirt behind him. After he had caught and killed the skunk he found himself imprisoned. When he emerged sixteen days afterward, he was a very lean dog,

James Finch of Camden, N. J., utilizes his dog as a means of communication with his daughter, who lives more than a mile away. A letter is tied to the dog's collar, and he is told to take it to Emma. It is promptly deliverd, and the answer is as faithfully returned. -A Bolinas (Cal.) man says that he put two hens in a bag to prevent them from setting and hong it across the clothesline. He thought no more of it and the bag was left there. When it was taken down, both hens were found alive, but as destitute of feathers as if they had been boiled, and in the bag were nine-

One who has tilled the soil for forty years, and meanwhile accumulated a competence and given his children a good education, says his experience has taught him these things: 1. One acre of land, well prepared and well cultivated, produces more than two which recieved only the same amount of labor as one. 2. One cow, horse, mule, sheep or hog well fed, is more profitable than two kept on the amount necessary to keep one well. 3. One acre of clover grass is worth more than two of cotton where no grass is raised. 4. No farmer who buys oats, corn, wheat, fodder and hay, heriff away from the door in the end.

5. The farmer who never reads the papers, sneers at book farming and improvement, always has a leaky roof, poor stock, broken down fences, and complains of bad "seasons." 6. The farmer who is above his business and intrusts it to another to manage, soon has robusiness to attend to. 7. The farmer whose habitual beverage is cold water is healthier, wendthier and wiser than he who does not refuse to drink.

meal is so great for improving the health of stock when given in moderation and also for fattening cattle, that none should be exported. The home demands would be equal to the greatest possible supply if its virtue were generally known. A half pint at each feed mixed well with corn meal, boiled peas, wheat brand or other good food will rapidly increase the quantity and quality of milk. If too much is given the bad effects will soon appear and it will require several days for the perfect recovery of the animal effect.

CERTIFICATES:

The Murray Engine is the neatest, nicest, simplest, most surable and the most powerful one I ever saw or ev.

I like it splendidly. No humbug in the Murray.

I. T. MOORE, Grenada, Miss. I have been owning different makes of Engines for twen y-six years, and I must say that I like the Murray Engine better than any I have ever used, and they come nearer giving all the power claimed for them than any engine I have used or of which I have any knowledge, so I take pleasure in sendorsing the Murray.

STITH A. WRIGHT, Carthage, Miss. endorsing the Murray. The engine is strong and durable, and for plantation use has no superior. It runs two ginestands or twenty-eight inch mill and steam press with perfect case.
